

11 "All the world's a stage," said some famous bloke in tights whose name escapes me right now. This member of the Italian Full Body-Contact Chatting Team demonstrates the levels of perfection that can be reached after years of dedicated chatting, gossiping, debating and generally talking drivel at every given opportunity. Advanced, intricate, high velocity movements such as this should never be attempted by casual visitors to the country. You could do yourself a serious mischief. TIM
